PERSIA LIES CRUSHED BY RUSSIA

Russian Lust For Persian
Blood Leads to Atrocities
Most Fiendish

EIGHT PERSIAN PATRIOTS
HUNG FOR RESISTANCE

Bodies Dragged Through the Streets—Spectators Kept
Back at Bayonet's Point

TABRIZ, Persia, Jan. 2.—Fearful
reprisals by the Russian troops continue today, the Czar's soldiers hanging eight more Persian patriots who had attempted to drive the Russian soldiers out of Tabriz when they invaded Persian territory without declaring war.

The bodies of the victims were cut down and dragged through the streets before the eyes of horror-
stricken thousands who were compelled to submit to the atrocities at the points of Russian bayonets. It is feared today that the Russian in-vad-ers will kill more than a hundred Persians just to awe the population of Tabriz, and to show the people that interference with him is not tolerated.

Eight victims hanged yesterday
were submitted to the same indignities that the victims of today suffered, and it is believed eight more hanged today until the Russian lust
for Persian blood has been satisfied.

RUSSIA (Persia) Jan. 2.—The British force which was landed from the protected cruiser Fox was still held here yesterday, although it was expected that a detachment will be sent to Shiraz immediately.

Severe fighting is looked for when advance begins as the constitutionalists and detached bands of rebels have united to prevent the Russian invasion.

It is understood that England intends to maintain a regular military force over the most-traveled roads.

AUSTRALIA'S CLERGY WAR ON PRIZE FIGHT

SYDNEY, Australia, Jan. 2.—
There will be no more prize
fighting in Australia if the clergymen here can prevent it.
Every effort is being made by the proposed meeting of Jack Johnson and Sam Mevey for the world's heavyweight championship. It is the first time in the history of Australia that there has been serious opposition to prize fighting here.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Clinging to the theory that Mrs. Reno Morrow and a missing automobile salesman who was a "star boarder" at the Morrow
home were discovered in a compromising position by Charles Morrow,
the husband, who was then murdered, the police today at a reopening
of the inquest, are making every effort to directly connect the wife with the crime.

Millionaire Stokes
Is Yet Seriously Ill
NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Although he is still in a serious condition, physicians today decided that a second operation on Millionaire W. E. D.
Stokes would hardly be necessary.
Stokes has been gravely ill since the acquittal of Lillian Graham and Ethel Conrad on the charge of having tried to murder him.

FLEW NEW SHIP TO AVIATION FIELD

First Day Glenn Martin Takes
Out Biplane, He Sails
5000 Feet High

PUT IN HANGAR
READY FOR MEET

Successful Flights Made Over
Plain South of Foot of Main Street

Yesterday Glenn L. Martin, accomplished one of the most remarkable feats in the history of aviation.
It was not a fancy stunt in the air
he and his corps of mechanics are responsible. They built a brand new biplane, and so perfect was it in balance, so perfect in every adjustment,
that at the first attempt to fly in it,
Martin went up for a six minutes'
flight, circled and alighted as easily
as though the machine were tried out a dozen times.

After two successful flights in the morning over the plain at the foot of South Main street, and two others in the afternoon, Martin headed his new craft for Dominguez field, and thirty-one minutes from the time he arose from the ground he was 5000
feet high above the aviation field.
The rattle of his motor brought the people from the hangars, wondering what it could be.

Martin shut off his motor and in wide circles descended until when near the ground he again started his engine. He came to the ground in easy fashion, and the aviators and mechanics of the field gathered around, threw their hats into the air
and applauded the Santa Ana for his successful flight.

Martin's new biplane is bound to attract considerable attention at the coming meet, for it is about the trimmest built plane ever seen on this coast. Every cut of her planes is perfect. These planes are made to pattern after the thickness of a bird's wing, thick forward and curving and tapering to the rear. The plane has incorporated in it a number of new ideas of Martin, Day, Stevens, Savage and the other brilliantly skilled men who are associated in Martin's aeroplane factory
on East First street.

This plane accomplishes what Martin aims to accomplish in each new plane he builds; namely, the reduction of the hazard or risk. Martin has hazards figured out to a fine
point. He knows how much risk
there is in certain materials, how much risk there is in the liability of wires becoming loose. In this plane every wire is locked. Two huge gasoline tanks carry enough gasoline to last seven hours. The machine is equipped with every appliance for showing speed and altitude, so that Martin knows just where he is all the time.

Yesterday's flight by Martin demonstrated that he may be expected to do things in competition with the recognized big aviators who are going to take part in the meet.

One cannot but remark upon the vast change that has taken place in Martin's activities in the last year.
A year ago yesterday, the holiday
aviation meet at Los Angeles closed.
Martin entered that meet as a novice
in a frail, crude biplane, and he was the only novice who circled the field. With his later knowledge Martin could not be induced to go up in a risky craft such as he used then. Since that meet Martin has won his international aviator's license. He has given exhibitions at Brawley, San Diego and Pomona, and filled dates in Nebraska and Kansas for one of Glen Curtiss's exhibition managers.

WHEN A FINN MET A FINN, MARATHON WENT TO SPRINT

EDINBURGH, Scotland, Jan. 2.— Kolshmainin, a Finn, won the classic
at the Powder Hall marathon today,
beating Hans Holmer by ten yards,
after the most spectacular finish in the history of the race. Holmer, a Finn, ran practically even to the stretch. Then the Finn developed a burst of speed which Holmer was unable to duplicate, and came home
a few yards winner.

Aristocrat
The word "aristocrat" comes from Greek "aristos" (best) and (rule), meaning the rule of the best. Literally aristocrat means
"rule of the best."

CLANCY DENIES CONFESSION IN SOUTH

Says He Resisted Third Degree
Ordeal and Will Talk
Only Before Jury

LABOR LEADERS IN COURT
FOR ARRAIGNMENT TODAY

Hearing of Pleas Postponed—Ortie McManigal Is Taken East

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2.—Denying that he had confessed any complicity in the McManara dynamitings, Eugene Clancy, who is seriously ill
at his home here, and who is under bond to answer to an indictment charging conspiracy, today told of the "third degree" he underwent in Los Angeles recently.

"Tell them I have not confessed,"
he said. "Tell them I will face my accusers on January 8 and tell them
labor will not suffer from this plot against it. Oscar Lawler tried to browbeat me and force me to tell him
something. I told him and the detectives I would do what talking I had to do before the grand jury. I was not in condition to undergo the ordeal men, but I threatened me
brutally. As for this reptile, Ortie McManigal, I never saw him."

LABOR LEADERS IN COURT;

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—When labor leaders Tveitmo, Johansson and Munsey, were arraigned before Judge
Welborn in the Federal District Court today, on charges of conspir-
ing to violate the interstate commerce law by transporting dynamite,
each waived the reading of the indictments. Defense attorney Harriman
then asked that the men be given ten days in which to decide upon their pleas. This was granted, and Judge Welborn set January 12 as the date upon which the men must enter their several pleas.

ORTIE McMANIGAL HAS BEEN TAKEN TO INDIANA

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—In the custody of two Burns detectives, Or-tie E. McManigal, whose confession led to the arrest of the McManara brothers, was secretly taken from the county jail shortly after 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, hurried aboard a train bound for Indianapolis.

The hurried departure of the government's star witness was superintended by Detective Malcolm McLaren of the Burns Agency.

Fearing for the safety of McMani-gal, McLaren carefully guarded the route taken by the officers with the prisoner in custody. He refused last night to divulge the time Mc-Manigal left the city, or the train
taken for the East.

The federal authorities in Indianapolis regard McManigal as one of their most important witnesses.
Through his testimony the authorities rely to connect several eastern labor men with the dynamite conspiracy.

McManigal is taken to Indianapolis
to supply links in the chain of evidence against ten eastern men who will be indicted by the federal grand jury there. McManigal knew the men directing the dynamiting and those who knew that such methods
were being employed.

HATFIELD SCION KILLS DOCTOR ON TRIVIAL EXCUSE

PINEVILLE, W. Va., Jan. 2.—Armed deputy sheriffs are today guarding Willis Hatfield, locked in a frail
prison, from a threatening mob.
Hatfield, the son of "Devil" Hatfield,
a notorious Kentucky feudist, shot
and killed Dr. Edwin O. Thornhill, aged 35, while the physician was attending an injured person in a local drug store.

The doctor had refused to give Hatfield a whiskey prescription. Hatfield fled, but was captured and brought to the county seat heavily guarded.

STEAMER EUREKA GIVEN MEXICAN MAIL CONTRACT

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 2.—The Mexican government has awarded the mail-
carrying contract between Ensenada
and San Diego to the steamer Eureka
of the North Pacific Steamship Company in preference to its only competitor, the Victoria of the Mexican line. The North Pacific claims a subsidy goes with the contract; its rivals deny this.

TVEITMOE RECEIVES ASSURANCE OF FAITH

Head of Seamen's Union Believes in His Innocence—Buildings Council
Will Delay Action

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—By a telegram today to O. A. Tveitmo, under indictment here for alleged illegal transportation of dynamite, Andrew Furuseh, president of the Coast
Seamen's Union, of San Francisco, and one of the real labor leaders, expressed his belief in the innocence
of the accused man. The message
reads:

"I was profoundly astonished on reading of your arrest. I assure you of my complete belief in your innocence, and my faith in your speedy release. I wish you a happy and successful year in your work of improving the lot of those who are heavy laden."

Bowen, acting president of the state
Building Trades Council, stated this morning that the defense of General
Secretary Tveitmo and Organizer Johannsen of that body would be considered at the state convention to be held in Fresno beginning a week
from next Monday.

"Until that time," said Bowen, "we will take no action in the premises.
The convention will hear the reports of these two officials, and will act in accordance with its best judgment. Tveitmo will report on the convention of the American Federation of Labor and of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor, besides reviewing the McNamara cases, and the position of the building trades in relation to them."

OHIO PROGRESSIVES OUTLINE PRINCIPLES AND REJECT TAFT

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 2.—Headed
by Gifford Pinchot, Senator Clapp and Senator Works of California, a dozen progressives of national importance
today spread out over Ohio to continue the fight for progressive principles started by United States Senator Robert M. La Follette's tour.
The speakers will remain in the state most of the week.

All of La Follette's friends today declare themselves satisfied with the action of the progressive conference
here, which, while it deferred an endorsement of La Follette for the presidency, at his desire, its members went on record individually, by the ratio of seven to one, to the same effect.

DECLINED TO CHOOSE
CANDIDATE AT PRESENT

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 2.—Progressive Republicans of Ohio met yesterday, formed a permanent organization, and adopted a declaration of progressive principles, but voted, 52
to 32, not to give their endorsement to United States Senator Robert M. La Follette as a candidate for the presidential nomination.

After reviewing the endorsement
of the league, the delegates voted, 51
to 11 in favor of a resolution as a personal expression of the delegates, naming Senator La Follette as "the living embodiment of the principles of the progressive movement and the logical candidate to carry them to successful fruition."

Anti-Taft Resolution
This resolution, which was adopted and which had been submitted to the resolutions committee by Pinchot, Walter Houser, secretary of the National League and manager of the La Follette campaign, and John D. Pack-ler, temporary chairman of the Ohio
organization, read as follows:

"We are opposed to the renomi-nation of President Taft. We hereby declare it to be the determined purpose
of the Ohio Republican Progressive League to work in harmony and unison to nominate a progressive Republican and President, recognizing as fellow progressives all who hold the principles for which we stand, whether they be for the presidential nomination of Robert M. La Follette or Theodore Roosevelt or any other progressive Republican."

"We assert the essential unity of the progressive movement throughout the entire State and Nation.
We favor the election of delegates
who favor the nomination of a candidate who will fully represent the progressive principles."

Principles of Party
Fackler, who presided at yesterday's caucus as temporary chairman,
was elected chairman of the permanent organization.

A declaration of principles, adopted unanimously, was substantially the one prepared by a committee appointed at a meeting of the progressives
of the Western Reserve. On the question of national politics it followed the line of the platform adopted by the progressive conference in Chicago.

It declared for a substantial and equitable revision of the tariff, schedule by schedule, preserving the protective tariff principle, the measure of which shall be the difference in wages and raw material at home and abroad.

To this end, a non-partisan tariff
board with full power to compel testimony and to report to Congress was advocated.

A revision of the Sherman law was suggested.

Other planks of the platform declared for popular election of United States Senators, the Pinchot-Roosevelt conservation policy, a national income graduated upward, and the abolition of needless public positions.

It was the third time that President Taft and Mrs. Taft were hosts at the New Year's reception and this year Mrs. Taft's health was better than on either of the former occasions.

NEW YEARS DAY AT CAPITAL TAFT SHOOK HANDS WITH MANY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Mr. Com-

may be dressed or what their station
in life, may enter the White House
and be received by the Chief Executive if they will stand in line long enough.

The Yale Glee Club provided a

Taft Reported as Ready to Withdraw if Roosevelt Is in the Race

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Political circles were astounded this afternoon
by a report credited to well-known Taft leaders that the President has determined to force Col. Roosevelt into the open in a contest for the nomination.

The rumor, which no one about the White House would discuss, was that Secretary Hill is en route to New York to tell Roosevelt that Taft will not fight him for the nomination but will withdraw from the race for president, if he really is a candidate for the nomination.

Out-Going Clerk to the Present City Officers And Former Trustees

To You, the Fathers of the City of Santa Ana:

On this very eventful occasion to me, closing as it does my official career in the city of Santa Ana, I desire to attempt, in some small degree at least, to express my appreciation of the treatment which has been accorded me by our citizens in the past, and my deep personal regret that circumstances now direct my steps to a new work.

For the past twenty-three years, the voters have honored me continually with the office of city clerk, and certainly any man who could fail to consider himself under the heaviest obligations to a community after such unusual favors, would be sadly deficient in gratitude.

I cannot express my deep regard for this long continued evidence of trust and friendship. I can only say that in occupying this position during all these years, I have at all times endeavored to repay this confidence by a strict attention to duty, and with a constant regard for the interests of Santa Ana, and in leaving this position, which has really been my life work, the happiest feature connected with the parting is

Santa Ana, was an honored guest. During the evening many interesting historical incidents were reviewed. It was an evening for reminiscences as well as tribute.

Not only was appreciation of Tedford shown in words. The city presented to him a gold watch chain and his admirers who were gathered to do him honor gave him a handsome Morris chair.

The banquet served by the Dragon was of oysters, pastes, sandwiches, salad, cakes and ice cream.

Frank E. George, present chairman of the Board of City Trustees, was toastmaster, a position he filled with the utmost ease and humor, fitting the occasion.

In his opening remarks he said: "We have with us tonight the man who founded and who named Santa Ana. I am proud that he is here that we may honor him."

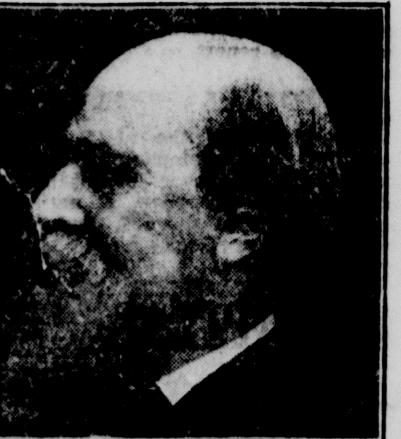

"On my right is Ed Tedford, the outgoing clerk of 1911, and on my left is J. C. Burke, the incoming clerk of 1912. Since Mr. Tedford took office April 4, 1888, he has served this city creditably and faithfully. One would have to go far to find a public official who has given as much general satisfaction. He has treated all people with kindness, more so than any public servant I ever met. The clerk has been the hub of the municipal wheel and we city trustees have been the spokes."

"With the departure of Ed Tedford to take a more lucrative position, we have a new city clerk, and I call on George McPhee to respond to the toast, 'The New City Clerk.'"

"City Trustee McPhee said: 'We have met tonight primarily to give evidence at this social reunion of some small portion of our appreciation of the man who has been a

the fact that I can honestly say that I have done my best.

Having assisted in laying out the original townsite of Santa Ana every step of our city's progress lies before me like an open book. It is not strange, therefore, that at a time like this the sweetest memories of a man's life should crowd themselves through my mind, and render anything I should say totally inadequate in my own estimation. I shall only attempt, gentlemen, to express to you once more, and through you, to the people of Santa Ana, my most earnest appreciation of all that I have received at their hands, together with the desire that in later years, I may be able to return to this, my home, and spend my declining years among the people and amidst the scenes which I have so long enjoyed.

And to you, the Fathers of the City of Santa Ana, I wish to thank you personally for the favors extended me, and trust that your further efforts may be an unqualified success, which will lead on to the greater development and importance of the city of Santa Ana, one of the brightest and best in this, the great state of California.

edication of a man who has been an esteemed and respected citizen of Santa Ana for a longer period than one-third of the three score and ten years allotted as the span of human life, twenty-three years of which time he has acceptably and satisfactorily filled perhaps the most responsible official position in the municipality. This man, Mr. Chairman and gentlemen, is now about to leave us, having severed his connection with the city in order to take up a line of endeavor more to his personal liking, and on this the eve of his departure, I feel that I voice the sentiments of the whole community when I say that Santa Ana is losing a true friend. And while some carping critic may say this man has had what in vulgar parlance might be termed a soft time for the last nearly a quarter of a century, I want to say to you that the office of the City Clerk of the City of Santa Ana is no sinecure, but is a position which requires painstaking care, unlimited patience and no small share of ability to successfully fill, and that this man has shown himself to be possessed of all these attributes may best be proven by his unblemished record.

"This man is Ed Tedford, the old City Clerk of Santa Ana, and while the half has not been said of what I feel in the way of friendship for Mr. Tedford, others there are here tonight who will more fully attend to his particular case, and as my poor efforts have been enlisted by our worthy toastmaster in behalf of the new City Clerk, I will refrain from further present reference to the retiring officer in order that I may pay some attention to the incumbent, without unduly trespassing upon your time."

"The new City Clerk is Joe Burke, descendant of good old Irish stock, men who stand in the forefront in history as poets, soldiers, statesmen and captains of industry, although the fact that many of them are railroad builders has often been used against them as a reproach."

"This man Burke, who is about to assume the duties of this office has not been a resident of Santa Ana for many years, but he has made an enviable record in the comparatively short time he has been among us. He was chosen by County Clerk Williams as the latter's chief deputy because of his ability as an office man and accountant and while filling that position to the entire satisfaction of his chief, he managed to spare the time to prepare himself for the practice of the profession of the law, and not long since he passed a most creditable examination and was admitted to practice in all the courts of the great State of California."

"And when announcement was made that Ed Tedford had decided to leave and a still hunt was instituted for his successor, and it became known that Joe Burke would accept the position, I want to say to you that knowing the man as I do, I felt that the find was what might aptly be termed a special dispensation of Providence, and gladly agreed to support him for the place, and I am happy to be able to say that my colleagues on the Council all took the same view of the matter as I did, with the result that Mr. Burke was appointed to the place by unanimous vote."

"And now that he has been appointed and has accepted the position and qualified for the office, I wish to bespeak for him just an even chance with the rest of us, no favors for he don't need any, but just to be given a fair show and he'll surely make good."

"Public Utilities"
Toastmaster: "We have in the city government an all-around man. When we want anything done, we call on Ransom Reid. Tonight I call on him to speak on 'Public Utilities.'"

Reid's talk in happy vein created laughter.

He said the trustee is a public utility.

"The Law Down to the Minute" was responded to by City Attorney Heathman, who reviewed in brief the activities of the city in getting sewers, water works, sidewalks and other necessities. He prophesied that in ten years Santa Ana will have 25,000 people. In regard to Tedford, he said: "No man will miss Ed Tedford more than I. He has always been the most reliable man in the city government and in his departure the city suffers an almost irreparable loss. He has had wonderful patience, and no person was ever turned away by him without accommodation if it were possible for him to give it."

John Cubbon was called upon to talk about "Streets." He said that when he was a trustee two miles of streets, Main and Fourth, were paved. After leaving office he brought the petrolium pavement here, and he advised that it would pay the city well to buy the necessary tools and do petrolium work instead of gravel and oil street covering, the city to pay half of the cost.

"City Beautiful"
A. C. Black, ex-city trustee and president of the Civic Association, spoke of the annual weed cleaning day as a profitable institution. He said someone might volunteer to be city forester, and thus institute a system of making trees on the streets uniform.

He said that Santa Ana has a fine people. Present were men who had fought many battles on various city issues, yet there was no enmity.

Attendance Evidence
Col. S. H. Finley stated that no greater mark of the appreciation of Tedford's services could be given than that practically every ex-city trustee and gladly responded to the invitation to be present. Illness had kept away former City Trustees Lacy, Yoch, Hunt, Menges, Hervey and Parsons.

"Thirty-three years ago I went to school with Ed Tedford," said Col. Finley, "and I have known him intimately ever since, and I know him to be true blue. As a semento of this feeling that the city feels for him, we tonight present to him this watch chain on which is engraved: 'To Ed Tedford from City of Santa Ana—1888-1911.'"

Tedford's address appears in another column of this paper.

Another Gift

With humorous stories and remarks, Horace McPhee introduced a gift of a Morris chair to Mr. Tedford. The chair was collected from an adjoining room to the place at the table where Tedford sat. Then occurred one of the most touching incidents of the evening, that bespoken only Tedford's love for the father of Santa Ana but also his ever-present thoughtfulness of those about him.

"I want Mr. Spurgeon to sit in this chair first," said Mr. Tedford, as he took Mr. Spurgeon, now old and feeble, by the arm and led him into the soft and easy chair. This kindly thoughtful act on Tedford's part brought instant applause from those present.

The New Clerk

Toastmaster E. George said: "We have the new city clerk with us, and I call on him to stand up and show himself."

J. C. Burke rose from his seat, and in a spontaneous speech in keeping with the occasion said:

"When I was a lad I picked for my ideal of American citizenship, my ideal of what a man ought to be—my father. Tonight I'm but a baby among you, and I lack my ideal of what a city official ought to be—the man whom you are gathered to do honor. I take the position, and it is my earnest hope that in following in his footsteps I may be in some measure as successful as he. Every man, woman and child shall be welcome to my office and I shall give to each and everyone every consideration within my power. I only hope when my service to the City of Santa Ana is ended these same men who are here tonight who have made Santa Ana, shall be that I have done my duty."

Toastmaster: "For those who do not know Mr. Burke I shall say that I knew his father thirty years ago when we served as officers of the same lodge at Boney. He was a good man, a workman."

There was a call from the banquet for the high oration that was given by Joe Burke at the banquet given a few weeks ago to United States Senator William Alden Smith. Burke delivered a dialect speech with an effectiveness that brought roars of laughter.

Other Talk
In response to toastmaster's call a number spoke. G. A. Edgar said he thought all Santa Ana's trustees have done their best, although some fights were bitter and man present could freely shake hands with every other person.

J. S. Haywood all he picked out the land for the legion of the water works, put the well down 315 feet and got artesian flow.

William Whitte said his board built the sewers and doubled the water supply.

John Avas said with Spurgeon, Harlin, Snyder and Lacy, the first clerk was Sam Wagon. He then resigned, and Spurgeon spoke to Avas about appointing Tedford, which was done. Tedford served a month and Judge Towner, the city attorney, got $20.

A Good Prophet
"When I came Spurgeon said there would be a new city. Twenty-six years ago he pointed out what he said was the site for a courthouse. I laughed at him. Both prophesies came true, and now he prophesies that we will have a new state."

Tedford was named of a visit Spurgeon paid Tedford's parents when the Tedfords were in a tent in Gospel Swamp, at that time Spurgeon said he was going to start a town.

E. C. Wright of Huntington Beach, R. J. Thompson and D. L. Anderson all had good words to say of Tedford.

John McFadden told of his first visit here in March, 1879. He found but two houses, one occupied by a man named Bates and another by Williams. There was no Santa Ana.

C. W. McNaught said that he had always found Tedford of an even, courteous disposition.

Capt. S. W. Smith told of buying the first water pipe for the city, how he chagrined one bidder by placing his sample pipe in water and producing rust.

A Good People
County Assessor James Sleeper spoke of the progressive spirit of the people. Although the county was given a tremendous raise in assessment this last year, not one person complained.

"Few people realize as I do how this county is growing," said he, "is going ahead at a great rate, especially in the north end of the county where there has been much of it in oil."

California: It's History and Romance

By JOHN S. MCGROARTY

BOOK that you will SIT UP NIGHTS to READ

It is a one-volume story of the most wonderful state in the world told in the language of a poet. Every phrase is a song; every statement is a fact. It thrills and thrills and thrills.

Eloquent, yet concise; beautiful, yet solid; fascinating, yet instructive; it contains all that is essential and is a portrayal of California by the Golden State's most gifted and best loved writer.

Adapted to youth, middle-aged and elderly persons alike, it meets the universal demand of all for a single-volume history of California. It is very valuable to the student, not only for the knowledge it contains but also as a study in word-painting and phraseology.

This work has been reviewed and passed upon by the most eminent historians and literary critics of California, to their complete satisfaction.

In one volume, thoroughly indexed, beautifully illustrated, splendidly bound and printed in good readable type, it is the most valuable book on the Holiday counter. Be sure that some member of your family receives it as a Christmas remembrance in order that it may have a place in your home.

Written by a Californian, published by a California House, it fulfills in every respect your choicest demand. Sold at all bookstores, or address

John Cubbon interested and amused his hearers with recounting an early day visit to Santa Ana when a man named Russell, dismissed Sunday school in order to sell Cubbon a load of hay that Cubbon had come up from Newport Beach to buy. On the way back he stopped at the Tedford ranch to get a drink, and saw Ed, and Walter Tedford, then boys, for the first time. This was in the spring of '71. G. L. Wright, Henry Diers, V. E. Blodgett and O. B. Alderman closed the speech-making with short remarks.

Blodgett stated that there is a project under way whereby the school board may buy thirty acres for the polytechnic high school, and offer ten acres of it to the city for a public park.

There was then a general hand-shaking around. Personally those present expressed to Tedford their regret at his leaving the city, and that Santa Ana, and those who had already met the new clerk were glad to see him.

CHICAGO, Jan. 2.—Prof. Frederick Starr of the department of anthropology of the University of Chicago, arrived in Chicago yesterday after a four months' trip through Korea and announced some remarkable discoveries. Most important of these, from the scientific viewpoint, is the fact that on the walls of the approaches to a shrine erected 1200 years ago, found carvings on stone which are most strikingly resembling carvings found in Mexico at Tan.

Another important discovery at the same shrine, which maintained that one Buddhist religion.

MUNICIPAL MARKETS

Municipal markets are not new in this country. Fifty years ago every city and considerable town had a public market place. New York, Philadelphia, Boston, New Orleans, St. Louis and other cities that might be named still maintain great market houses. Such names as "Washington Market," "Faneuil Hall Market," "Quincy Market," "French Market," "Union Market," are familiar to people the country over. St. Louis once had three or four great markets. Chicago has today three squares upon which market houses once stood. A generation ago, every small town in the south and southwest had a central market place. Most of those communities have outgrown these centers. The privately-owned market, grocery and butcher shop have supplanted them. This is as true of Great Britain and Ireland and of parts of the continent as it is of the United States. Yet in some of the cities at home and abroad, great and small, the public market still exists and prospers.

These markets were and are, however, public markets only in the sense that they were and are administered as to their general business management by the respective municipalities. The stalls or booths have always been let to private tenants. What is proposed now is that the municipality shall not only own and operate the markethouse but go into the business of operating the stalls or booths. We are told that in the city, where the experiment is likely to be first made on anything like an important scale, the intention is not to displace existing distributive concerns, but, through publicity and regulation, to keep prices at a fair and proper point and to save the consumer from extortion.

There appears, on the one hand, very good excuse for a movement, official or other, which will put a stop to the cornering of foodstuffs. It has been demonstrated in some instances that prices charged the ultimate consumer were out of all proportion to the prices received by the original producer. It has not been satisfactorily shown, however, that the retailer is the blamable factor in the high-cost-of-living situation, nor that a movement for municipal markets, which will strike him first of all, will solve the problem. We do not hear of retailers of foodstuffs acquiring great fortunes. It is questionable even if the commission men or the cold storage men have made great fortunes of late. Still, prices are too high, and the consumer is justified in seeking a remedy for a condition which, he frequently alleges, drains away his income.

Savings banks reports, nevertheless, disprove the allegation that he is being drained so completely. Savings of the wage earners of the country show a constant increase. The condition of the American truck gardener and farmer does not indicate that he is suffering from the state of the market. He has had fifteen years of prosperity that borders on the phenomenal, if there is cause for complaint anywhere it seems to be among the salaried and so-called middle classes. But beyond all this the fact stands out that the high cost of living is not a local or a national, but a universal problem. Isolated cases there are, of course, where high prices are traceable to artificial methods of regulating the supply, but when the high average of prices prevails in the village and town as well as in the city, in the West and South as well as in the East, in Europe as well as in America, it must be that some universal cause is operating, and that the conditions resulting can be improved or corrected only by the removal of this cause. What it is has been made evident in a hundred ways during the last few years; it is made evident enough, however, in the population figures from all parts of the world, which show a steady flow from the agricultural districts to the industrial centers. The world's increase of food stuff consumers in these days is out of proportion to its increase of foodstuff producers. Municipal markets will not cure this. Economists and statesmen, and the workers in general, have gone deeper for a remedy. The hackneyed of late, the phrase "to the soil" has lost none of its

TREATY TO PREVENT NIAGARA

The United States has negotiated a treaty with Great Britain for the diversion of water from the Niagara river and power.

matically in March, upon the expiration of the law which now limits some of its provisions.

The international agreement was made in response to a general demand that the question of water diversion be settled once and for all in accordance with expert opinion. The treaty makers had exhaustive tests conducted by hydraulic engineers, and it was determined that diversions should not exceed 26,000 cubic feet a second on the Canadian side and 20,000 cubic feet a second on the American side, out of a total flow of 240,000 cubic feet a second.

The use of this quantity of water for power purposes, the engineers found, would not affect the appearance of the falls sufficiently for the eye to detect. Since only about half the quantity permitted by the treaty is now diverted, twice the present horsepower can be produced without endangering the scenic beauty of the cataract.

WHAT OTHER ORANGE COUNTY PAPERS ARE SAYING EDITORIALY

ORANGE COUNTY POULTRY PARADISE

Orange News: The Orange County Poultry Show just closed in Santa Ana, serves to impress a fact not generally recognized, namely, that the poultry industry in Orange County is attaining tremendous proportions.

A recent estimate of the annual value of poultry products in the county places the figure at $1,425,000. With Los Angeles a splendid and growing market, easy of access, the figure of poultry raising in this section is particularly bright.

The exhibits of poultry at Santa Ana last week demonstrate that for quality of stock the growers of Orange County rank with any in the world. With climate conditions of the most favorable, there remains but to solve the problem of securing cheaper feed to make Orange County the poultryman's paradise.

A Prophecy

When St. Nick was young and his limbs were fleet,
He traveled from house to house on his feet.

As he grew older his limbs gave way
To eight fine reindeers and handsome sleigh.

He next decided that he would like
To trade his reindeers for a bike.

He is getting too old to pedal his wheel,
And this time will come in an automobile.

He changes so often, the next time I ween,
The old fellow will come in a flying machine!

What the Legislature Did About Employers Liability

(Contributed by the Industrial Accident Board)

It seems necessary to interrupt, for this week, our short series of articles on "Why the Farmer Was Included in the Roseberry Law," in order to make clear what the legislature, at its recent session, did in relation to Employers' Liability.

The legislature enacted three measures, none of which amends the Roseberry law in any particular. The acts passed were merely supplementary and in no way affect the rights and obligations of employers or employees under it.

Senate Bill 11, imposes five additional duties upon the Industrial Accident Board. The first of these is the duty to "Collect and compile statistics in regard to industrial accidents happening in this state resulting in personal injury, the cost and probable causes thereof."

The second is, "To investigate methods and devices for the prevention of such accidents," a service that desperately needs to be performed for the reason that it is entirely possible to so protect dangerous machinery as to cut in half the number of accidents that take place in this state.

Third, "To investigate the comparative merits and relative cost of the various forms of insurance against liability and compensation for personal injuries resulting from industrial accidents." The crux of the whole matter of compensation to injured workmen is insurance. Employers are much concerned over the rates which the liability companies are charging for insurance coverage, but no one outside the insurance companies knows, as a fact, whether employers are being overcharged or not, and it

PACIFIC COAST MUST ACT IN PANAMA RATES AT ONCE

San Diego Heeds Warning and Will Take the Matter up During This Week

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 2.—The entire Pacific coast must take concerted action in congress at once or the west will derive no benefit from the Panama canal rates, according to Edwin J. Bowes, Jr., a prominent Chicago realty man who has studied the question and is staying at the U. S. Grant hotel here. San Diego merchants favor prompt response and probably will act formally within the week.

How Franklin Learned Manners

Franklin collected thirteen principles to cover the small amenities of daily life. Each week he picked out one and practiced it diligently, thus creating a habit. It took three months to cover them all. Each year he practiced each one four full weeks. He kept this up for many years. The uncouth Franklin of early manhood who found fault with his wife for giving him a silver spoon and a china bowl for his bread and milk instead of a pewter spoon and earthenware crock, developed into the statesman and man of the world who won the respect of Englishmen, the admiration of Frenchmen and the gratitude of Americans.—Harrington Emerson in Engineering Magazine.

Following in His Footsteps

Visitors to China are particularly struck by the numbers of pairs of boots hung in separate wooden cages in the archway of the main west gate of Hsuanhua, the valedictory gifts of beneficent prefects. It is an attractive custom in China to invite a departing magistrate whose rule has been popular to leave a pair of old boots for suspension in a prominent place as a hint to his successor to follow in his footsteps. It is a considerable honor to be asked to leave these boots, and the ruled make the request all the more eagerly because they believe in the efficacy of the hint.

Just a Few Don'ts

Here are a few suggestions in the way of don'ts which will be found to "wash well."

Don't put your secrets on paper. They are safest in your own custody. Don't write anything unkind or condemnatory concerning a third person. The individual may hear of it and trouble follow.

Always say less than you mean in a letter.

Don't write affectionate letters to any man except your father or brother.

Don't write to a lover anything you wouldn't be willing the newspapers should print with your name attached. You can't tell what may happen.

Cultivate the art of writing jolly, friendly, clever letters, from which personalities are carefully eliminated.

Philosophers have been, they say, For ages impecunious elves. They gave their good advice away Instead of taking it themselves. —Washington Star.

Liquid Glue

An excellent cold liquid glue is made as follows: Dilute two to two and one-half parts crude nitric acid with forty to fifty of water, soak in this twenty-five parts of glue for twenty-four hours and then heat the mixture until it is homogenous. The quantity of the acid used depends on the quality of the glue.

SAM AND THE BULL

By M. QUAD.

Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.

He was an old man who had come down from the mountains one summer's day, and as we sat on the steps of the village postoffice he told this story:

"My naybur, Jim Filkins, is havin' heaps of trouble with his two boys just now. One of 'em was over to the railroad t'other day and wanted to fight the bulgine, and t'other went to town and got his eye almost put out in a fight. Reckon they'll grow up to be a cantankerous pair. I had a son—Sam, the only child we ever had—and he died some five y'ars ago. In one way I'm sorry and in another way glad. It made me kinder lonely to hev him go, but I could figger up that it was fur the best."

"That boy had a powerful good heart in him as a ginerall thing, but thar was days when the devil seemed to hev possession of him. It wasn't no good to switch him, and when he was outer sorts it wasn't no good to argy with him. He was fifteen y'ars old when I cum home from the war, and his head was swelled up big 'nuff fur a man of fo'ty. He finally got so that he felt like rubbin' up agin me. I was at work in the garden one day when he cum home from the Co'ners a-sittin' right and left, and bimbeey he cum out to me and sez:

"'Pop, mebbe yo' calls yo'self the best man on this yere mountin'."

"'Mebbe I do,' sez I as I looks at him outer my left eye."

"'But yo' ain't, though, and I kin prove it.'"

"'Then who is?'"

"'He stands right here befo' yo', and his cognomen ar' Sam. Dad, I'm goin' to whoop yo'."

"'Better git into the house, boy, and hev yo'r mother gin yo' some bread and butter and 'lasses on it.'"

"'But that boy had the wust kind of swell head,' said the old man, 'and he was almos' in thinkin' he could whoop his pop. He gits higher and higher, and blunchey he salls fur me. I knowed what was cumin', and before he could wink twice I dopped him on his back and then whooped him till he hollered fur mercy. He lived two y'ars arter that, but he didn't try that game on me any mo'."

"The older he growed the more cantankerous he got, and one day the ole woman cum to me with tears in her eyes and sez:

"'Sam's a-gittin' wusser and wusser all the time, and I'm almos' hopin' the Lawd will take him away.'"

"'The Lawd couldn't manage him if he did git him,' sez I."

"'Mebbe he could. Mebbe he's got a pen up thar in heaven to put Sam into and keep him till he's bin made over. I'm goin' to dye my shawl black and fix up a mournin' bonnet, fur that boy of ours will be bring home dead befo' he's a month older.'"

"Well, so he was—so he was," said the old man, with a touch of pathos in his voice. "He was down to the Co'ners one day to blow and brag with the crowd a-hangin' out thar in them days, when a man cum ridin' on a mewl to say that Bill Clark's bull had broken out of the field and was comin' up the road. That bull was a big un and had hooked two horses to death. As the man was givin' the alarm the bull showed up down the road. He was pawin' the air and makin' the heavens quake with his beller, and sich as had hosses tied up was mighty spry to turn 'em loose and git 'em away. Nobody didn't propose to git in the way of that bull and take chances—nobody but my son Sam. It was a chance fur him to show off, and he riz up and yelled:

"'This is the day I hev been livin' fur. I'll go fo'th and take that bull by the horns and flop him on his back.'"

"The men tried to argy with Sam, but he was sot, and, pullin' off his coat and flingin' down his hat, he walked out and begins to paw and beller same as the bull. The critter stops to look at him, and fur a minit or two he must hev wondered what it was. Then his eyes began to glare and his tail to stand out, and the crowd hollered to Sam to git over the fence. He never minded 'em, but with a roar and a beller he run in on the bull, was tossed twenty feet in the air, and when the animal got through with him there wasn't much left to bury. A man cum up to break the news to us. I wasn't home at the time, and he sez to the ole woman:

"'Mrs. Sneed, ar' yo'r son Sam home today?'"

"'He ain't,' says she."

"'And do yo' know why he ain't?'"

"'Not exactly, but I reckon it's kase he's sumwhar else.'"

"'That's right, Mrs. Sneed—perfectly right and proper. Yo'r son Sam ain't home and ain't comin' home, kase he's got bizness up thar in the land of angels and golden streets, which will detain him fur sum time.'"

"It was a sad case, but me and the ole woman hev allus reckoned that Providence had a hand in it. Sam had got that cantankerous that thar was no holdin' him back. He'd got to fuss around or bust. If he hadn't tackled the bull he might hev got into a row in town on 'leckshun day and bin the means of a dozen men bein' killed. Yes, it was better so. I hated to see him go, and he was an only child, but cantankerousness was bound to smash him all to bits sooner or later, and we had to make the best of it and reckon that Providence knowed his bizness."

Doings In Social and Club Circles

ACTIVITIES BEGIN

Clubs and Societies Begin 1912 With Meetings Announced

Now that 1912 has been safely and happily ushered in, life will resume its normal aspect.

Society will resume its usual functions, and club life, which has been dormant during the holidays with renewed activity.

Tomorrow afternoon the second section of the household economics department of the Ebell Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Hatzfeldt, 204 1/2 South Sycamore street.

The Helping Hand Society will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. G. P. Hill, 1102 Spurgeon street.

Miss Tucker's Success

The friends of Miss Tucker, who caught in the Roosevelt school last year, will be pleased to read the following from the International Falls Press of Minnesota:

"Much credit is due to the local High School for winning the Minneapolis prize offered by the Minneapolis Journal for the highest number of high school credits gained during the last quarter. In short stories written to the Journal, which contest was open to all the high schools of the state. Much credit is due to Miss Tucker who had direct supervision of the story writing from the local school and also to the pupils for their diligence and ability in writing them. This is another good boost for our young and rapidly growing city. It proves that we are growing educationally as well as commercially, for which all feel justly proud."

Brakeman-Flook

On Saturday afternoon, December 20, 1911, at 4 o'clock, Miss Jessie Gordon Flook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Flook, was married to Charles Warren Brakeman. The wedding, which was a quiet one, took place at the home of the bride's parents, 1009 Bush street, in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. A. Stevenson and H. E. Murkett officiating.

There were many loving floral offerings and a large attendance of friends. Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe sang "Hold Thou My Hand" and another selection.

The pall bearers were Judge Z. B. West, District Attorney L. A. West, James Sleeper, W. B. Williams, J. C. Joplin, H. E. Smith.

The always impressive ring ceremony was used, with Dr. J. Herndon Garnett, for many years the beloved pastor of the bride and her family, pronouncing the words that knit two lives together. The bride, whose sunny smile is one of her chief charms, was attired in simple white.

A wedding supper served in courses and with covers for twelve, was served in the dining room where red streamers reached from the chandelier to the corners of the table decorated in keeping with the Yuletide season. Dollies embroidered in holly, place cards hand-painted in holly design, the loving labor of an Eastern cousin of the bride, and a tripod of slender candy sticks over vivid red lights, added to the beauty of the table appointments.

Mr. and Mrs. Brakeman left at 6 o'clock for a brief trip. They will reside for the present at the Flook home. To the bride, whose happy disposition and sterling worth has made friends of all whom she met, will be extended loving felicitations, while the groom, not so well known, but who has gained esteem and friends during his residence here, will be heartily congratulated on winning so estimable a bride. To both will be given best wishes for a long and happy life.

Traveled Far

The Canton (Ill.) Register of Dec. 26 has the following:

J. G. Quick, accompanied by his wife, traveled all the way from Santa Ana, Calif., to be present at a Christmas family dinner given by Mr. Quick's sister at her home in Avenue B, on Monday.

Unfortunately the hostess was taken ill with inflammatory rheumatism and could not move about among her guests.

Those invited to the reunion and dinner were John Quick, Charles Quick, R. H. Quick, James Quick and their families; Asa Morris, Mrs. Maggie Heller, a sister of the Quicks, who lives at Bushnell, and E. H. Twining and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Quick of Santa Ana arrived in Canton on Monday morning. Mr. Quick was born here, but had been back home only once in 25 years, this being his second trip east since he left here for the west.

An excellent dinner was served to the guests at the Twining home and the time passed all too quickly in the interchange of family topics.

Phonograph Wanted

It has been suggested that should anyone wish to give a phonograph and some records to people who would appreciate them greatly, the inmates of the County Hospital at the corner of Fifth and Spurgeon streets would be willing recipients of such gifts.

FUNERAL OF MRS. KINLEY

The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Kinley, wife of J. P. Kinley and sister of Miss McNeil, was held at Smith & Son's chapel yesterday, with Rev. J. A. Stevenson and H. E. Murkett officiating.

There were many loving floral offerings and a large attendance of friends. Mrs. Ella I. Fyfe sang "Hold Thou My Hand" and another selection.

The pall bearers were Judge Z. B. West, District Attorney L. A. West, James Sleeper, W. B. Williams, J. C. Joplin, H. E. Smith.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Opening of 1912 Was Happy in Santa Ana With Quiet and Fair Weather

New Year's Day in Santa Ana was like an ideal spring day, the sun's splendor being tempered by the breath of sea and mountain. The new year of 1912 was ushered in at midnight with cheerful noises of bell ringing, whistles and all the conglomeration of sounds that usually greet the vigorous offering of Father Time with which he annually presents the world.

The day was spent quietly, those remaining at home having pleasant family dinners or more pretentious gatherings. Some of Santa Ana's citizens attended the Tournament of Roses, others spent the New Year's season in visits to neighboring cities, while still others took motor rides over some of the most pleasant thoroughfares that radiate to sea or mountain range or nearby towns.

One of the pleasant New Year's events was a Michigan picnic held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKinney, 510 East Sixth street during New Year's Day. A more beautiful and ideal spot could not have been chosen. Large tables containing all sorts of good things to eat, were set under large spreading elm trees, and as the guests viewed the laden tables spread in the spring-like California sunshine, they could not help but note the contrast in surroundings should a similar event have been held in Michigan on New Year's Day.

After dinner short speeches were enjoyed and the company organized themselves in a society choosing the following officers:

President, E. O. Shaw; secretary, Mrs. J. R. Wilcox; treasurer, Mrs. Wm. McKinney.

After completion of the business affairs the guests adjourned to the large, spacious parlors where a delightful social time was enjoyed.

All former residents of Michigan are cordially invited to join the new society and membership may be gained by seeing or writing the secretary, Mrs. Wilcox, 601 West First street.

The next meeting will be held on June 11, 1912, at Balboa.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kellogg, at 621 Orange avenue, the first day of the new year, 1912, was greatly enjoyed. They had invited in a few friends to partake with them of the 12 o'clock New Year's dinner which had been prepared. As the merry party gathered around the table, after having exchanged many good wishes for the new year, it was with appetites ready to enjoy the good things provided. The roast chicken was done to a turn, and with the many delicious accessories, the mince and pumpkin pie and the home made candy, the dinner was certainly one to be remembered by the guests throughout the year, if not longer, while the happy exchange of thought, the strengthening of friendship ties and the cordial hospitality of the home made impressions that will linger ever.

One of the diversions of the afternoon was watching the month-old bunnies partake of their New Year's dinner. It was certainly an interesting sight to see the thirteen timid little creatures busily nibbling lettuce leaves while their black eyes closely watched every movement of their visitors.

The guests of Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg on this happy occasion were: Rev. and Mrs. W. L. C. Thomson, Mrs. D. E. Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Sprague, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kellogg and daughter, Evelyn, George Kellogg and Miss Rosaline Kellogg.

Dr. and Mrs. Gordon last night entertained fifteen members of the Japanese Mission, including their head, Rev. Fujita, at their pleasant home. Mrs. Gordon had arranged games for these young men, far from their native land, and they entered fully into the spirit of the occasion.

Mrs. Edward Darling, who is an accomplished musician, played charmingly on the piano for the company, and later refreshments of delicious sort were served by the hostess, small tables being used in the parlors.

One of the pleasing features of the evening was the presentation by Mrs. Gordon of a map of Palestine to the Japanese, the hostess having made the map with her own hands. The guests were not only deeply appreciative of the gift but of the kindly spirit of hospitality that prompted Dr. and Mrs. Gordon to give them so happy an evening.

Besides the Japanese guests, the Gordons and the Darlings, W. D. Ma-teer was present during the pleasant event.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Tedford gave a house warming and New Year's Day dinner yesterday to the "Tedford clan." The lovely new home was gay with holly wreaths and poinsettias and a pretty center piece of maiden hair ferns and holly had the place of honor on the table where the four course turkey dinner was served at one o'clock. A glorious time was enjoyed during the day with Mr. and Mrs. Tedford as the genial hosts.

The guests included Mrs. W. N. Ted-

Personals

Albert Hill returned to Throop Polytechnic Institute this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baade were out-going passengers on a Los Angeles car this morning.

Mrs. Reuter of South Main street, was a Los Angeles visitor today.

E. M. Smiley and E. S. Wallace leave tomorrow morning for Wichita, Kas., where the headquarters of the Oriental Cement & Plaster co., of which they are officers, is located. The works of the company are in New Mexico.

Mrs. J. A. Cranston and two daughters attended a reunion of former Alexandria, Minn., residents held in Los Angeles last Saturday. They remained in the city with friends over Sunday and New Year's day, returning last night.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Crookshank made a trip to Los Angeles this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Van Cleave were among early travelers to Los Angeles today.

Miss Vina Petersen watched the old year out in company with a merry party of friends at Los Angeles, where she spent Sunday and Monday, returning here last night. This morning she resumed her school duties at Newhope where she and Miss Hasty are teaching.

James Smart returned this morning to Occidental after having had a pleasant holiday vacation at home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Mosbaugh spent today in Los Angeles.

Miss Pearl Thompson and Miss Emma Kyrhl returned last evening from San Diego where they spent Sunday and New Year's day with Miss Thompson's family.

Mrs. E. M. Clarke of St. Paul, Minn., arrived here Sunday morning and will spend the winter with her sister, Miss Elizabeth Willard, and her father, D. C. E. Willard.

Misses Nellie and Lucy Hill returned to Redlands University today.

Mrs. J. B. Rowland has returned from a delightful ten-day visit with her brother, C. A. Small. She found the harbor city charming, and marveled at its apparently magic growth.

One of the interesting signs of growth was the building of the exposition edifices in the big park which will be the scene of the Panama fair in San Diego.

Miss Edna Hill, who is teaching in the Venice high school, returned to her work yesterday after a ten days' vacation with her parents.

Miss Mary Wimer spent her holiday vacation with her sisters and brother. Miss Wimer is teaching in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Bishop spent Saturday night with Mrs. Park Hyde of Los Angeles and were Tournament of Roses guests of their cousin, Mrs. Green.

"Never Saw Anything Like It" Hundreds of men, women and children are saying the same, a grand New Year's treat; not one person disappointed. Each one had all that he or she could take away, and then there was some left. "My, what a crowd was there," and the big place was so warm and comfortable, and such a good natured gathering. I tell you it is the place to go for an evening's entertainment, and so much good, wholesome amusement, also instruction. The animals, some wild, others trained, were just wonderful. The dramas were fine, while the comedy so laughable. The singing was splendid, while the vaudeville, La Boheme Duo, was among the best numbers seen here in a long time. And Manager Roberts certainly did himself proud in giving his patrons such a treat. Tonight at the Bell, the Bear Hunt, and most of last night's acts will be presented.

Will be closed Sunday, Jan. 6, 1912, for New Year's Day.

HORTON IN EAST TO PERSONALLY BUY STOCK FOR FIRM

J. Clyde Horton, senior member of the Horton-Spurgeon Furniture Company, left yesterday for the East to buy goods for his firm. He expects to visit the leading furniture factories of Chicago and Grand Rapids and possibly other points and to buy the firm's 1912 stocks direct from the manufacturer, thus having an opportunity to select just what the trade of the firm demands and at the same time get best possible prices.

It can be readily understood why a trip such as Mr. Horton is taking would be invaluable to him in his business, as it puts him in personal touch with manufacturers and gives him a broader view of his particular line. He expects to be gone for a month.

HENRICKSON WINS IN MOTORCYCLE RACE YESTERDAY

Calvin Lambert on a six horsepower twin Excelsior, and H. E. Henrickson on a four horsepower single cylinder Indian, competed New Year's Day in a road-race from Tustin to Occidental and return, a distance of about 116 miles. A purse put up by those interested in the riders and machines was won by the Indian rider, in two hours and fifty-six minutes, making an average speed of nearly 42 miles per hour for the whole trip.

Lambert was four minutes ahead into Occidental, but Henrickson saved his machine for the return trip, making it in one hour and sixteen minutes and averaging about 45 miles per hour over the roughest of roads for the entire return trip.

A TRAGIC CHRISTMAS CAUSED BIRTH OF PROTECTIVE LEAGUE

Drunkard's Wife and Children Thrown Into Street Stirred Hearts of Women of Pittsburg

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 30.—Christmas Day, 1910, a woman, poorly clad and with face swollen with weeping, came to the home of Mrs. Stella Masters, in the fashionable A copy of the liquor laws of Pennsylvania "I saw your name in the paper and how you were working to help people made poor by drink," she said between sobs. "I didn't go to my pastor because he couldn't do anything, I'm afraid; my husband wouldn't listen to him. My husband makes six dollars a day in the mills, but he spends it all for drink, and today—Christmas Day, just think of it—he drove our six children out on the street and beat me. He was drunk. Is there nobody who will do something for drunkards' wives? Can you help me?" She grew hysterical and could not finish her pathetic story.

Mrs. Masters, W.C.T.U. and church worker, club woman and suffragist, today said she was taken aback by the woman's appeal and she realized that the 14 years of her work along charitable lines had somehow failed to hit the mark. Right then and there she made the resolve, "I'll do something for drunkards' wives and children."

A short time later the Protective League for the Families of Drunkards, the most unique organization of its kind in the country, was formed.

Mrs. Masters laughed when she was asked whether the league, of which she is president, had secured any "swearing off" pledges.

"We don't do things that way," she said. "Most pledges are jokes. They're made only to be broken."

"First we appeal to the saloonkeeper and then to the erring one himself. If neither of these two appeals does any good we go to the courts."

"Our work is broad in scope. We have monthly meetings, but we have no paid treasurer or secretary. Our dues are only 25 cents a year. We banded ourselves together like the Crusaders of old and aim to do just what our name implies, 'protect drunkards' families'."

"During the past year we have helped fifty families. That is, we were successful in that many instances in weaning away supporters of families from the curse of strong drink."

"Fifty families sounds small and inconsequential, doesn't it? But isn't it a remarkable thing when only one person is turned into better paths? We don't assume things, or go by hearsay. Our members go into saloons themselves, right up to the bar if necessary."

"We are the saloonkeepers' friends and they are our friends. We work together. They know now that we realize they have a legal right, at least, to make their living as they do, and the better class of saloonkeepers welcome our aid in conducting respectable houses."

"Most saloonkeepers aren't bad at heart, and then we always have the law to back us up in our demands, and licenses are hard and expensive to get if protests are filed in license court. But we make no threats. We talk it over with the saloonkeepers and give him a chance to mend his ways. A second offense means more drastic methods."

Here is how the league goes about its work, quietly and unassumingly:

A drunkard's wife or mother or some woman of the family writes to the league, asking for help.

One of the members looks into the case. This woman detective gets the names and addresses of the places where the husband or son spends his money for drink. Then she goes to the saloonkeeper and talks the matter over with him.

If he refuses to act at the first appeal—which usually falls on deaf ears—the league member tries to talk with the drinker himself.

If this fails a printed notice is given the saloonkeeper warning him not to sell to "John Doe," who is a person of intemperate habits.

A copy of the liquor laws of Pennsylvania goes with the notice and the saloonkeeper has learned by this time that failure to comply with the notice means trouble getting a new license next year.

A particularly hard fight was put up on Christmas and New Year's day last year to close all places where strong drink is sold.

The court refused Mrs. Masters' request on the ground that it could take no action within the bounds of law.

Nothing daunted, Mrs. Masters and her colleagues carried the matter to the liquor dealers' association. The dealers were ready to promise if all the "speak easies and one-man clubs and bar-room drug stores were closed also."

But the women haven't given up the fight and hope to accomplish their aim before another year.

While Mrs. Masters reluctantly admits it's rather Utopian, she is pushing a fight to have women barred at all times from all places where strong drink is dispensed.

The work is beginning to attract country-wide attention and letters are pouring in, asking for information relative to organizing leagues in other cities.

FOREVER ENDS INDIGESTION

No Heartburn, Gas, Headache or Dyspepsia Five Min- utes Later

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of indigestion or stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a distressed, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that it a sign of indigestion.

Ask your Pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Diapiesin, and take a little just as soon as you can. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or intestinal cramping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it prevents fermentation and takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there. Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is at your drug store, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases of Pape's Diapiesin contain more than sufficient to cure any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other Stomach trouble.

A Moving Sermon.

"I once had a parishioner who was a miser," said an English clergyman. "For this man's benefit I preached one Sunday a strong sermon on the necessity of charity, of philanthropy—a sermon on the duty and the joy of giving. The miser, at whom I gazed often, seemed impressed."

"Next day I met him on the street."

"Well, John," I said, "what do you think of yesterday's sermon?"

"It moved me deeply, sir," he answered. "It brought home to me so strongly the necessity of giving alms that honestly, sir, I've a great mind to turn beggar."

A Boomerang.

"What's the matter with your head?" asked the first bumko man.

"A farmer I met today just banged me there with his carpetbag," replied the other.

"It must have been a pretty hard carpetbag."

"Yes; it had a gold brick in it that I sold him yesterday."—Catholic Standard and Times.

JUST IN TIME

Some Santa Ana People May
Wait Till It's Too Late

Don't wait until too late. Be sure to be in time. Just in time with kindly ills Means curing the back; Before backache becomes chronic; Before serious urinary troubles set in.

Doan's Kidney Pills are what you need. Here is testimony to prove their merit.

S. H. Whitehead, 607 W. First St., Santa Ana, Calif., says: "A great many people have called upon me to learn about my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills and at such times I have always recommended this remedy in the highest terms. For several years I was troubled by a weak and painful back. If I did any lifting or overwork, I suffered from sharp twinges through my loins. I also had much trouble from the kidney secretions, the passages often being too frequent, then again just the reverse. Doan's Kidney Pills procured at Dean's Drug Store, helped me at once and it was not long after beginning their use that I was entirely relieved."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WORTH KNOWING

If the oven is generally so hot as to burn a cake on the bottom, put more than a single layer of paper in the bottom of the pan.

Cream and eggs will beat much more quickly if they are very cold. A pinch of salt, too, aids the process.

Dull brass may be treated with a paste made from powdered pumice stone moistened with vinegar, when it needs to be revived.

When next making chicken salad, try adding a little of the jellied chicken stock to the mayonnaise dressing.

An old coverlet or blanket over the spring, underneath the mattress, will add much warmth to the bed in winter.

COMPLIMENTARY
TO THE JAPANESEPossess Traits That are a Worthy Example.

Pastor Russell Compliments Japs For Gentleness and Kind Demeanor, and Wishes He Could Do the Same For Christendom—Discourse on the Importance of the Will and a Proper Choice at the Beginning of the Year.

Tokio, Japan,
December 31st.—
The International
Bible Students
Committee of seven, for the investigation of Foreign Missions, is here.
Pastor Russell, the Chairman of the Committee, gave
two public addresses in one of
our principal auditoriums, the Y. M.
C. A. He had large audiences and keenest attention. His text was from Joshua xiv, 15, "Choose ye this day
whom ye will serve." He said:
"In our day the human will, although still ambitious and avaricious, has taken a higher plane for its exercise
than in the days of Alexander the Great and Napoleon. It is rather employed in the conquering of mountains
and valleys, in the casting up of highways and piercing of tunnels; in the erection of bridges and the masterpieces of mechanical engineering which traverse the land and the sea with almost incredible speed.

The Will's Greatest Achievement.
But, said the Pastor, the most wonderful achievement of the will is seen in self-control. The Scriptures say truly,
"Greater is he that ruleth his own will than he that captures a city." (Proverbs xvi, 32.) The most wonderful illustrations of the will thus exercised he believes are to be found in the case of Jesus and His footstep followers. By the exercise of His will Jesus surrendered His glorious condition for the human estate and then delivered up Himself, as the Man Christ Jesus, to the doing of the Divine will,
even unto death, that thus "by the grace of God He might taste death for every man." (Hebrews ii, 9.) The motives behind that strong will was not selfishness, but love.

Compliments the Japanese.
When I note the gentleness and kindness and courtesy of Japanese life
in general, I am astonished and wonder little that the ordinary Christian message has not appeared more to your hearts and displaced Shinto worship, for which I understand you have two hundred thousand figures, temples.
Sympathetically putting myself in the place of the Japanese, I fancy you saying, Shall we exchange our simple,
esthetic gentleness and kindness of spirit for the rudeness and sometimes swagger of the soldiers and sailors,
and the domineering headiness of the upper classes who come to us?
Sympathetic, again I hear you say, The missionaries who have expounded Christianity to us for years have told us that our parents and ancestors whom we reverently worship
are despised by your Christian God,
and are damned to an eternity of torture because they did not know Jesus and become His followers. They tell us, additionally, that we also are bound for that place of eternal horror and torment unless we repudiate the religion
of our birth which has made us so happy and contented. Can you wonder that we resent such teaching; that we merely tolerate it to avoid war; that we prefer Buddhism and Shintoism, and that our Shinto temples increase the more rapidly because of an antagonism to Christianity?

Heathen Ancestry Not Roasting.
Alas, my dear hearers, Christianity,
with very precious truths at its foundation, seriously lost its way long centuries ago and wandered far from the inspired teachings of the Bible.
This is the explanation of the numerous sects and parties of Christendom
and the different doctrines, none of which I am here to defend—either from the standpoint of reason or the Bible.
The Bible does not teach, as once you supposed, that eternal torment is the penalty for our first parents' disobedience in the eating of the forbidden fruit. On the contrary, it teaches that
"the wages of sin is death," and that this death wage has been the experience of our entire race for now six thousand years. It teaches that in God's due time this curse or sentence
of death will be lifted and that sorrow and sighing shall see away.

It teaches that the whole earth shall become "a paradise restored"—world-wide,
and that those who, when fully informed, shall prefer sin, will be utterly, completely and everlastingly destroyed, in the "Second Death."
So then, my friends, if from Shinto you have learned to be esthetic
in your tastes, kind and gentle in your manner and loyal—these lessons learned will be to you a great advantage in that future time of blessing under Messiah's Kingdom. On the other hand, whoever has cultivated a contrary spirit will be correspondingly degraded and will correspondingly have
the more and heavier lessons to learn.
Take heart then today from the assurance of the good time coming, and that every grace of character that has been acquired by you, either through Shintoism or otherwise, is not lost, but should be maintained.

POULTRY CUPS ARE AWARDED

Goodwin, Williams Bros. and Robbins Take Three Special Trophies

The winners of the three big cups of the poultry show of the Orange County Poultry, Pigeon & Pet Stock Association that closed Saturday night were J. R. Goodwin of Santa Ana, Williams Bros. of Fullerton and O. M. Robbins of Santa Ana.

Goodwin's White Wyandottes took the cup for the largest display. It was the trophy of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association of Santa Ana.

Williams Bros. took the Orange city sweepstakes premium, a $25 cup, for the largest and best display of any class. The prize was taken with Leghorns.

O. M. Robbins took the cup offered by Goodacre Bros. of Compton for the highest scoring pen of Orpingtons.

International Tom, the big turkey, was weighed Saturday night. His exact weight was forty-four pounds and two ounces, which was twenty pounds less than the weight that many people credited him with. Dr. Wright was the closest guesser. He missed it by an ounce. Mrs. Staplin of Ross street guessed two ounces over and Homer Orice of Ocean Park and Norman Davis of 116 South Birch street were two ounces under.

KNOWLAND WILL LEAD TAFT FORCES IN CALIFORNIA

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Representative Joseph R. Knowland will be selected as the leader of the Taft forces in California if plans now being considered at the White House are carried out.

Commencing with the New Year the administration will begin the preliminaries of the national campaign with vigor. Despite the present insurgent condition of California, the President and his advisers are hopeful of being able to turn the tide and the state is by no means given up as lost.

Knowland, as spokesman of the administration, will act as the intermediary between the Taft campaign headquarters and the Taft sympathizers in California. A strong effort will be made to turn the adverse sentiment admittedly existing in many parts of the state.

The President is known to have no illusions about the California situation. The shadow of Roosevelt is the most disturbing element in the situation just now from the administration standpoint.

J. PIERPONT FLED U. S. TO AVOID PROBE OF THE STEEL TRUST

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—In his hasty and unexpected trip abroad, J. Pierpont Morgan, according to a statement made by an eminent member of Congress yesterday, practically fled the country to avoid being subpoenaed and dragged with his books before the Stanley investigating committee and forced to testify on mysterious points not yet revealed in the purchase by the United States Steel Corporation of its great rival, the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company.

LOCAL BANKS ACCEPT BONDS

The $15,000 Issue of Newport
Drainage District Purchased Here

Mac O. Robbins, secretary of the Newport Drainage District, today received $15,000 for the drainage district, and delivered to the First National, the Farmers & Merchants National, the California National and the Orange County Savings Banks of Santa Ana bonds for $15,000. The four banks took the issue.

The drainage district may now go ahead with its plans for putting in a system for draining the lands in the Old Newport section.

ADMIRAL POTTER'S NOSE BROKEN IN A WHITE HOUSE FALL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2.—Rear Admiral William Potter, one of Secretary Meyer's chief aides, suffered a broken nose and severe bruises about the face as a result of falling down the steps of the State, War and Navy departments building yesterday when the naval officers were starting for the White House to take part in the New Year's reception.

Late last evening physicians reported that Admiral Potter had not sustained any serious injuries, and being of robust health, it is believed he will be able to resume his duties within a week.

TWO MILES IN RUNAWAY RIG

Three Orange Girls Have Exciting Experience—One Thrown From Buggy

For two miles yesterday Mildred Buchanan, a high school girl of Orange, clung to a buggy behind a runaway horse, and at the end was thrown to the street when the buggy in which she rode couched with another buggy belonging to Mr. Severance.

Miss Buchanan and Misses Lucy Northcross and Lois Park, all Orange high school girls, were out driving behind a livery horse. Something went wrong with the horse, and Miss Park got out of the buggy to try to fix the horse. This was near the corner of La Veta and Batavia. Miss Park took the bit out of the horse's mouth. The horse broke from her, and started to run, the bridge hanging. Miss Northcross jumped quickly from the buggy before the horse had gained speed. Miss Buchanan, however, remained in the seat. The lines were useless. She could do nothing except to let the horse run. That is what the horse did. At Main street he turned south and ran as far as Washington avenue, where the collision with Severance's buggy occurred. Miss Buchanan was thrown out. She escaped with a few bruises and scratches.

STATE PRINTER OBEYS THE LAW

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 2.—State Printer Richardson gave out an interview today in regard to the eight-hour law for women, in order to correct certain inaccurate statements that have appeared in print. He says:

"One of the first things I did upon my advent into office was to notify the foreman of the bindery, where 55

women are employed, to observe the law and not permit women to work more than eight hours in any one day, or more than 48 hours in any one week. I did this notwithstanding the fact that in the case of the state no penalty would attach. The state is the employer and could not prosecute itself. I am an employee of the state and not an employer. Still I believe in the general policy of the law and think the state should do what private firms are compelled to do.

"During the rush of legislative work an official of the legislature told the foreman of the bindery to work women overtime. For a few days in the second week before adjournment some of the women worked an hour overtime and were glad to get the extra pay. When the matter was called to my attention I immediately ordered it stopped and insisted that the state observe the law which private concerns are compelled to obey.

"At the regular session of the legislature this law will prove embarrassing for the reason that only skilled women can be used on legislative work, and the printing office will have to be run 24 hours a day. Still I will do the best I can within the provisions of the law."

ROYALTY VISITS HORSE SHOW AND SEES FINE RIDING

CALCUTTA, India, Jan. 2.—King George and Queen Mary today visited the Tillykunge horse show, had an unofficial reception and paid courtesy calls.

The horse show visit was a state affair. There was a magnificent display of horse flesh, dashing riding, jumping in competition for the king-emperor's and vice-roy's cup. Many military entries figured in the show.

ENGLISH GIRL TO FLY IN BIG MEET

Nineteen-Year-Old Miss to Pit Her Skill Against Famous Flyers

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2.—Lillie Irvine, slender English miss of nineteen years, is to pit her skill at the flying sport against the other famed women aviators and the man-birds during the international aviation meet at Dominguez field, January 29 to 28. Miss Irvine sailed yesterday from Liverpool for New York and will come direct to Los Angeles when she clears her two flying machines. With a record of more than 100 flights, one of them lasting for three hours and piling up a score of 200 miles, Miss Irvine will give Miss Scott, Miss Moisant and Miss Quimby a great fight for the women's championship during the coming meet.

The Englishwoman flies both a Bleriot monoplane and a Farman type biplane. She is the only woman to successfully handle both kinds of the aircraft.

MAN KILLED AT FULLERTON

Head Crushed in Fall While Trying to Board Santa Fe
Passenger

A man supposed to be Edward F. Tracy was killed by a Santa Fe train at Fullerton this morning as he was attempting to board it. Tracy is supposed to be a hobo. Coroner Winbiger believes the man came from a hobo camp that is located near Fullerton.

The man tried to climb on the train while it was pulling out of the station. He missed his hold and was thrown upon his head. The skull was crushed.

In the man's pockets were papers that convinced the coroner the man's name was Edward F. Tracy. There was no address found. The body is at Fullerton. The man was about 28 years old.

TWO GOLD BRICKS BROUGHT FROM MINE

Two more gold bricks—real ones—have been brought here from the mine of the Early Sunrise company in Kern County. The bricks were brought in by W. A. Penrod, the superintendent, and the sight of them on exhibition at the California National Bank has gladdened the stockholders, practically all of whom live here. The bricks contain about $3500 worth of gold. Two months ago the first pair of bricks from the property were brought in. They were worth over $4100. The company is now on Easy street. Its expenses are about $400 per month.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies, and that is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces of the Eustachian Tube. When the tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

FRANCE REBUKING U.S. FOR ITS ACTIONS

French Ambassador Absents
Himself Because of Treaty
Abrogation

PARIS, Jan. 2.—L'Intransigeant, in what appears to be an inspired statement, declares tonight that the absence of Ambassador Jusserand from Washington is in the nature of an official rebuke by France to the United States for its attitude toward Russia, and the abrogation of the treaty of 1832 France and Russia are closely allied treaties, and it is said the French government represents the attitude of the United States.
